NATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION

About National Human Rights Commission

The National Human Rights Commission (NHRC) of India is an independent body of the Indian government with the responsibility of advancing and protecting human rights. It is a statutory body recognised in the Indian Constitution that was founded in 1993 in accordance with the "Protection of Human Rights Act", which was amended in the year 2006 and further amended in the year 2019. The Paris Principles of Human Rights, adopted in 1991 for the promotion and preservation of human rights and supported by the United Nations at its General Assembly in 1993, served as the foundation for the creation of the National Human Rights Commission (NHRC). The act extends to the whole of India and was passed in conformity with the Paris principles adopted for the promotion and protection of human rights, which were endorsed by the General Assembly of the United Nations on December 20, 1993. Human rights, as defined in Section 2 of the said act, means the rights relating to life, liberty, equality, and dignity of the individual guaranteed by the Constitution or embodied in the International Covenants and enforceable by courts in India. In addition to investigating complaints of human rights violations or negligence in the prevention of such violations by public employees, the Commission also studies human rights treaties and international instruments and makes recommendations to the government for their effective implementation.

About the Competition

With an objective to raise the standards of Clinical Legal Education in India, Dharmashastra National Law University, Jabalpur (DNLU) is delighted to announce the first edition of NHRC-DNLU National Moot Court Competition, 2023 in association with the National Human Rights Commission of India (NHRC). In order to provide the necessary free space to interpret and analyse legal provisions in the context of a given legal regime, while trying to solve a practical problem, this event has been devised with the aim to nurture and hone amongst law students, a better understanding and concern for the protection and promotion of Human Rights, while giving them an opportunity to deliberate before experts in the field, thus rigorously testing the legal acumen, research, and oratory skills of the participating teams. Extending the objective of dissemination of Human Rights awareness, and in light of current global issues, the moot proposition for the Competition will revolve around Technology Law and Humanitarian Law along with other related laws. Technology law focuses on intellectual property rights, a complex branch of the legal system that deals with disputes over who 'owns' intangible 'property', such as creative works, patents, copyrights, and trade secrets. Technology law helps to protect the creatives who come up with these ideas and also ensures rights concerning the distribution of their work. To promote the aspect of legal training for ensuring a wholesome legal education, it shall be expected from the participants to explore different dimensions of law and not restrict themselves only to the theme of the Competition. In the past, DNLU has successfully conducted two editions of its Flagship event GP Singh Memorial National Moot Court Competition in virtual mode, which witnessed significant participation of law students from across the country. Keeping up with the spirit of mooting, this year, we are delighted to organize another grand event in association with NHRC, on the premises of our campus, surrounded by the picturesque greenery of Jabalpur. We cordially invite your Law School/ University/ Institution/ College and likewise to participate in the Competition.
