About...

About the Conference

India's digital transformation is witnessing the growing importance of AI across various sectors including healthcare, agriculture, education, and governance. However, this progress throws up significant challenges, especially with deepfake technology. This AI driver tool creates realistic yet fake images, videos, and audio, posing risks to privacy, misinformation and security. To address these issues, the "National Conference on Artificial Intelligence/ Deepfake and Regulatory Mechanism for AI" seeks to discuss regulatory frameworks that underscores India's dedication to ethical AI. The conference will explore legislative measures to prevent AI misuse, promote transparency, safeguard individual rights, and uphold information integrity. This event brings together legal professionals, experts, policymakers and technologists, to address these challenges and opportunities within India's unique context.

The Collaboration

The collaboration between Dharamshastra National Law University (DNLU) and the Law Commission of India for the National Conference is a progressive forward looking initiative aimed at addressing the legal, ethical, and societal implications of the emerging technologies. This association aims to curl out actionable insights to inform national policies and legal frameworks, while also to advance academic research and practical understanding of AI and deepfake technologies. Supported by PDPM IITDM, Jabalpur as Academic Partners, this joint effort emphasizes the importance of interdisciplinary collaboration in navigating complex technological challenges. It underscores the vital role of academic and legal institutions.
